Alex brings to the MSE Group over 20 years of experience in strategic sales management from running his own consultancy to senior director roles in blue chip companies. He leads a dynamic team of Sales Directors across Europe setting a working culture and standard where fun and enjoyment of task is as important as professional development and achievement.

He brings to the MSE Group an indefatigable (great word!) supply of energy, a 'can do' approach to customers' needs and a slightly odd sense of humour!
